We remember, we lament, we look to a new destiny together

The Uniting Church Assembly endorsed the observance of a Day of Mourning on the Sunday before Australia Day each year at the request of our sisters and brothers in the Uniting Aboriginal and Islander Christian Congress (UAICC). We reflect on the effect of invasion and colonisation on Australia's First Peoples and our identity as a nation. Remembering our history is an important part of our journey toward reconciliation as First and Second Peoples. Dr Deidre Palmer, the UCA President writes, "Our declaration of a Day of Mourning allows us to stand together in remembering the truth of our history, and honouring the culture of Australia's First Peoples, their families and the next generations."

Rev Denise Champion is a UCA Deacon and an Adnyamathanha woman. In her words: "I have been challenged, in my work in facilitating reconciliation between First and Second Peoples, to create a safe community. A community where people can come together, sit and talk, and experience healing and forgiveness for the past, finding a new destiny together".

We continue to listen to each other and to seek a new destiny together. Today we pray together to this end in the morning services. On Thursday we have the privilege of hosting an ecumenical prayer service of acknowledgement, lament and prayer. Every day we are called by Jesus to love, justice, and reconciliation together.

Blessings
